ABOUT FOOTBALL IN WA

The West Australian Football Commission is the caretaker of football throughout the State, responsible for the overall development of the game.

Football in WA dates back to 1895. Today it is the most popular sporting code in the State with more than 150,000 active participants each weekend during the season: more than double any other sport.

The WAFC is a not for profit sporting association. It is incorporated under the Associations Incorporation Act and governed by a volunteer board that oversees the operation of all football activities throughout the state. The WAFC's role includes ownership of the West Coast Eagles and Fremantle Dockers Football Clubs, guiding the West Australian Football League, overseeing community football, managing umpiring and football development and acting as the manager of Patersons Stadium.

The WAFC works closely with the following key advisory groups:

- Education Advisory Group
- Primary School Football Advisory Committee
- Secondary School Football Advisory Committee
- School Girls Advisory Committee

This creates positive communities through the active promotion of teamwork, responsibility, respect, leadership, commitment and community participation.
