Background

Women from culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) backgrounds will now be able to participate in AFL more easily, with the release of an Australian-first multicultural uniform guide.

The West Australian Football Commission has endorsed a pictorial poster and information sheet showing and describing uniform options for women and girls playing AFL.

The options feature guidelines around leggings, long-sleeved tops and head coverings.

The Female Multicultural Uniform Guide is an opportunity to provide young CaLD women with the confidence to move from school-based sport to club or competition level.

It also gives clubs a guide to help women play sport safely and in an inclusive and culturally appropriate way.
